++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
A clear night ahead with sunny spells and showers Wednesday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Scattered showers will fade as we move into the night, giving a clear night for most across the country. Still a possible isolated shower, mainly to the north. Lack of cloud will lead to chilly conditions, particularly within clearer areas. Minimum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Wednesday:
A fine bright start to Wednesday with increased chance of cloud and isolated showers from late morning, the showers easing later. Conditions feeling warmer than yesterday particularly in the sunshine. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Turning unsettled on Thursday, Friday and into the weekend with persistent heavy showers pushing eastward across the country, some locally thundery, heaviest on Friday. Feeling cooler and blustery at times.
